

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH KENTUCKIAN, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1898.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM - Editor.

The constitutional amendment prohibiting the leasing of convicts in Illinois was defeated.

New Mexico went Democratic by 4,000 majority, and the Democrats have a majority in the legislature.

The President has appointed G. W. Baxter, of Cheyenne, to be Governor of Wyoming Territory, vice Francis E. Warren, suspended.

Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, who has been visiting Gov. Lee, of Virginia, has gone to Syracuse N. Y. to visit Mrs. Thos. Emory.

The Democrats elected Bartlett Governor of California by about 300 majority and elected 2 out of the 6 Congressmen. The Legislature is safely Democratic.

Smalls, one of the two colored men in the present Congress, was beaten for re-election by Elliott a coal black Democratic negro. The fight took place in one of the South Carolina districts.

The news gets better as the later reports come in. The Democrats have not only gained Senators in Indiana and New Jersey, but California has also elected a Democratic Legislature which will elect a successor to Senator Miller.

One of the gratifying results of the late elections is the gain of two Senators by the Democrats. The Legislatures of Indiana and New Jersey, which will choose successors to Senators Harrison and Sewell, are Democratic each by 2 majority.

The race for Equalizer is between G. M. Priest, Dem., and C. H. Buchanan, Rep. Buchanan's majorities over Priest are 2,305 in Christian, 459 in Daviess and about 300 in Hancock, making 3,104. Priest carried Henderson, Hopkins, Webster and Union, though it is hardly possible that he has been elected.

We have received the second number of the Printer's Opportunity, a trade journal, edited by D. K. Osborne and published in Cincinnati, O. It is one of the best publications of the kind that comes to our table, and should be in the hands of every printer who wants to keep posted on all things connected with the trade.

Four of the Missouri Congressmen elect were born in Kentucky—W. H. Hatch, Jno. F. Phillips, P. P. Bland and Jno. F. Stone. The latter, who has the same name as one of the Kentucky Congressmen, was born in Madison county and went to Missouri when a boy. He is a member of the present Congress.

The contest in the Sixth District was not very close after all. The official count gives Carlisle 6,419 and Thoburn 5,551. Carlisle's majority 768. Two years ago the Republican opponent to Mr. Carlisle received 9,329 votes, nearly twice as many as were cast for Thoburn, and yet the Speaker was elected by nearly 600 majority. There has been no falling off; the Democrats simply didn't think it worth while to vote, as they did not regard Thoburn as in the race and their apathy came within about 800 votes of proving disastrous.

Mr. Lulu Smith, editor of the Herald, Philadelphia, is certainly doing good work in exposing the many frauds that are in successful operation every day, and has surely taken upon himself a tough task. He is one in ten thousand that would shoulder such an undertaking, but much good has been accomplished by him, and a saving to the newspapers of many dollars in advertising that they would have otherwise given away, besides preventing many quack physicians from inflicting their injurious medicines on unsuspecting victims. The Herald should be encouraged in its noble work.

The following Kentucky Congressmen were elected by the majorities given:

- 1—W. J. Stone, Dem., 2,000.
- 2—Polk Lafoon, Dem., 2,000.
- 3—W. Godfrey Hunter, Rep., 800.
- 4—A. B. Montgomery, Dem., no opposition.
- 5—A. G. Caruth, Dem., 140.
- 6—J. G. Carlisle, Dem., 768.
- 7—W. C. P. Breckenridge, Dem., no opposition.
- 8—J. B. McCreary, Dem., 3,500.
- 9—Geo. M. Thomas, Rep., 185.
- 10—W. P. Taubee, Dem., 1,000.
- 11—H. F. Finley, Rep., 1,000.

Geo. H. Thoburn, who came so near defeating Speaker Carlisle is a genuine workman and is 44 years old. He lives in Covington in the house where he was born and works in a furniture manufactory. He is a Democrat but is not a politician. He is more of a labor agitator and prohibition speaker than a politician. He was nominated by the Knights of Labor two weeks before the election. He lived for awhile in Evansville, Indiana, where he was a blue-ribbon temperance man. It is said that his expenses in the late canvass were only $16 and yet by the apathy of the Democratic voters he came within a few hundred votes of beating the biggest man in Kentucky. This was not owing to any strength of his own but merely to the fact that Democrats did not vote. Mr. Thoburn did not get as many votes as Mr. Carlisle's last opponent who was beaten by 2,000 or 3,000.

A Summary.

New York City goes Democratic, and elects Hewitt for mayor by 23,000. The State ticket is also Democratic, but the Republicans gain a Congressmen. Kansas gives the Republican candidate a plurality of 40,000, Iowa of 12,000, Minnesota of 8,000 to 10,000 (excepting the Governor who barely gets in.) Massachusetts of 9,000, Wisconsin of 22,000, Michigan of 7,000 and California elects Bartlett, Dem., Governor by 300 majority. Indiana has gone Republican by about 4,000, but the Democrats will control the Legislature. Pennsylvania gives the Republican candidate for Governor a plurality of over 42,000, a gain of about 90,000 votes over the vote of four years ago, but a falling off from the Blaine vote. Illinois rolls up a plurality of between 20,000 and 30,000, and Ohio about 15,000, all of which indicates that these States are not yet to be placed in the doubtful column.

The Democrats have lost nothing in the South, though in the North they have been less fortunate. They have carried their State ticket in New York by about 9,000, but have not secured the Legislature, which was a Republican majority on joint ballot of 28 and will elect a United States Senator. In New Jersey the Democrats elected their State ticket by 7,000 plurality, and the Legislature by 2 majority, which assures the election of a Democratic United States Senator. The Democrats carried two of the New England States—New Hampshire and Connecticut—by a plurality of the popular vote, but as the constitutions of both States require an actual majority, the Legislature of each being Republican, will elect Republican Governors and other State officers, and United States Senators. The Democrats have carried one Republican State, Colorado, electing both the State ticket and Congressman, and lost heavily in both Virginia and West Virginia.

The labor vote manifested itself in a strictly partisan form only in New York City, where Henry George received the unlooked for vote for 68,000; in Wisconsin, where they elected one delegate to Congress, six members of the Legislature, and the local ticket in Milwaukee; in Illinois, where they elected six members of the Legislature and defeated Morrison for Congress; and in Virginia elected one Congressman. But the workingmen's power was felt in a significant degree in several States.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Congressional election presents some interesting phases. Congress remains Democratic, but the Democratic majority of 47 has been considerably reduced. One of the most striking events is the election of a strictly partisan labor candidate and the narrow margin by which Speaker Carlisle was re-elected over his labor competitor, Wm. Morrison was also defeated by the labor vote. His district is strongly Republican, and his election was always a personal victory. The great gain of five Republican Congressmen in Virginia, while the gain of four Republican Congressmen in Indiana is to be accounted for by the general dissatisfaction with the Democratic party management and gerrymandering of the State. The Republican gain of one Congressman in Pennsylvania, appears to have no significance further than the decadence of the Greenback movement. The Republican loss of three Congressmen in Minnesota is probably to be attributed to the emigration of Republicans to Dakota and further west, and the immigration of Democrats and workmen from the Eastern States and Europe. The Republican gain of four Congressmen in Wisconsin is apparently the result of Democratic dissatisfaction and an increased Republican interest. The greatest Republican gain in Congress was in Ohio where they have gained seven.—Exchange.

The question has been raised in the Third District that Dr. W. G. Hunter, Republican Congressman elect, is a citizen of New Mexico and consequently ineligible. Hea will contest his election upon this ground. It is claimed that he had himself interviewed when he left Kentucky in 1883 and announced that he was leaving for good and that he voted and paid poll tax in Los Vegas, N. Mex. Hea has gone to New Mexico to investigate and if this is true Hunter is clearly ineligible and Hea may yet get in.

THE FRISCO EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Frank James Receives Some of the Loot—Mysterious Movements.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—A special from Nevada, Mo., says: "Frank James, the ex-train robber received the following letter yesterday, containing four new bank bills:

St. Joe, Mo., Oct. 31.—Frank James, Esq.—Dear Sir: Please accept the enclosed as a memento of the late Frisco train robbery of Oct. 25. Yours truly, JIM CUMMINGS.

The inclosure consisted of four unissued National Bank Notes made for the Merchants and Planters' national bank of Sherman, Mo. The notes were one $20 and three $10 bills, the latter of which had not been detached from each other. The letter was written in an evidently disguised hand and was mailed from St. Joe on Nov. 3.

Manager Damsel of the express company said that the detectives were already following up the clue contained in the dispatch. He did not know whether the money stolen Oct. 25 contained that received by Frank James or not. He had two theories in regard to the affair—either the real robber had sent the letter to turn suspicion upon James and put the detectives on a wrong trail or else some overzealous detective really thought Jim Cummings and Frank James were one, and wanted to see what effect the reception of the letter and bank notes would have upon him and what disposition he would make of them. The matter would be fully investigated, and might lead to some interesting developments.

Superintendent Damsel and Robert Plunkerton, the detective, visited the grand jury room very mysteriously just before noon to-day. It is thought that they either asked the jury to indict Fortberingham, the messenger, or requested the jury to issue a bench warrant for his arrest. Fortberingham's mother has arrived here, and it is understood that she will take legal measures to procure the release of her son from the custody of the express company. It is supposed the company is trying to prevent this.

As old physicians, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all other lung troubles, and a simple and reliable cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers to thousands of cases, he felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NORRIS, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

The Net Result.

The complexion of the next Congress is shown by the following table, which also shows in a succinct manner the losses and gains of the Democratic party. There are 5 labor men elected but with the exception of one in Wisconsin they are classed with the party with which they will affiliate:

*Labor—Democratic majority in next Congress, 181; present Congress, 41.

Several of the districts lost, notably the Third Kentucky, were lost by factional fights and not by any increase in the votes of the opposition. The net loss to the party is 12, which is not so very bad after all when we consider that three Senators have been gained and four or five Republican States gave the Democratic candidates for Governor a plurality over their Republican opponents. The table above is not likely to be materially changed.

The wife of Mr. Zeno F. Young, editor of the Madisonville Times, presented him with a ten-pound boy last Tuesday. Her husband may have to become as good and clever a man as his illustrious father.

O'Hara, the colored North Carolina Congressman, got into a factional fight with Abbott, also colored, and Simmons, Dem., was elected in the triangular race, by 1,800 majority.

Presentation.

The prohibitionists held a union thanksgiving meeting at the risk Wednesday evening. Quite a number of short speeches were made after the devotional exercises were held. Mrs. Wilson concluded the speaking, with some brief remarks. As she took her seat Rev. J. N. Prentiss arose and said:

"Mrs. Wilson the ladies of Christian county desire to express to you their gratitude for the work you have done. Three weeks ago you were a stranger to us, but in the homes all over this county, you are held as a friend fearless and true. From a thousand homes this night go up prayers of gratitude to God for the victory we have won, and in a thousand homes your name is spoken in broken utterances. I believe this audience will endorse the statement, that without your appeals to our men we would not have won the fight."

It was suggested that some token of gratitude be given to you and women and men asked the privilege of adding to that end. Then accept of this as an offering prompted by our hearts; and know that our prayers go up to our Heavenly Father asking that you may have the strength to fight many such battles and rejoice in many such victories; and that while you are bringing joy and hope into so many homes, you may keep in this our tender hand the little child so dear to your heart. When ever you look upon this watch let it remind you of these prayers."

Mrs. Wilson was deeply affected and attempted to respond but was overcome with her emotions and sat down and burst into tears. The doxology was then sung and the audience dispersed.

Fire Monday Morning.

The old Kelly homestead on Virginia street, near the southern suburbs was burned Monday morning at about 2 o'clock. The house was occupied by Mr. Cortez Leavelle. The fire originated in a side room, and was mysterious in its character, as there was no fire in the room. Mr. Leavelle lost nearly everything, including a piano. He had only $200 insurance on his household effects. The night was quite cold and inclement and it was some time before the fire company could get out. When they reached the fire it was too late to do any good. The house was owned by the Kelly estate and was insured for $1,000.

Death of Dr. Whitlock.

Dr. Jno. C. Whitlock died at his residence at Newstead, Sunday night, after a painful and lingering illness. He was a physician of unusual skill, and a gentleman of unswerving honor, a good man and a useful citizen.

His funeral was preached yesterday at 2 p. m., by Rev. J. C. Tate and the remains interred in the burying ground at Newstead church.

He leaves three grown children and a number of other relatives to mourn his loss.

Clark and Hon. Jas. Breathitt. There are 150 depositions to read and the case will take all this week. It was begun last Saturday. The Board is composed of County Clerk Breathitt and Esquires Brasher and Rogers. All of them are Republicans but Esq. Brasher voted for Judge Winfree last August.

Wednesday morning we met on the street one of the remarkable men who took an active part in the war. His name is Larkin Harried, and his home is near Hopkinsville, Ky. He was not a soldier in any special command, but he devoted his time and risked his life in a thousand adventures passing from Kentucky through the Federal lines to the Confederate army in the South. He brought letters to us and was in the tent of the writer of this notice at Dalton, Ga., in 1864. Though an old man now his health is good, and he has the prospect of many years of active life.—Clarksville Chronicle.

A meeting of twelve days closed with the Little River Baptist church last week in which the pastor, Rev. A. W. Meacham, was assisted by Eld. J. W. Oliver. There were nineteen additions to the church and nine other confessions. The following persons joined the church: John Thomas, John Reed, G. W. Southall, Jordan Thomas, James Goo, Daniel Lord, Robert Dalton, Edward Ladd, Joel Nance, Barksdale Caldwell, R. S. Lindsay, Wesley Thomas, Mrs. Adla Merritt, Mrs. Lucy Dawson, Miss Lilla Pace, Miss Rosa Robey, Miss Jimmie Long, Mrs. Lucia Thomas, Mrs. Martha Ladd. This church has recently newly painted its house of worship and furnished it with an excellent organ.

The death of Mrs. Rozella Tuggle Wootton, wife of Mr. T. W. Wootton, mentioned in our last issue, was as sad as it was sudden and unexpected. She had been over to her husband's store only a few minutes before, chatting pleasantly, apparently in the enjoyment of her usual health, and upon leaving told her husband to come over to the house in ten or fifteen minutes to do some little piece of work about the house for her. When Mr. Wootton went to the house he found his wife lying dead in the floor. It is supposed that she fell down of heart disease, although no inquest was held. She had been married about six years and leaves three small children. Her funeral was preached Tuesday by Rev. A. W. Meacham.

Fourteen Saloons Closed.

Fourteen of the nineteen saloons in Hopkinsville were closed Saturday night. The other five will have to close Jan. 1st, although four of them have county licenses that run a few weeks longer. In our last issue we gave the County Clerk's construction of the prohibition law and also that of the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of Hopkinsville. The saloons closed with a few exceptions were running under city licenses taken out Jan. 1st. The clerk declined to permit them to remain open until the city licenses ran out, and notified all who had taken out county licenses since April 9th to close. Yesterday morning there were but five saloons open and three of them are in groceries. Several of the saloons men were out on the streets with plug hats on were jolly and good-natured over the matter. We are informed, however, that they have sent to Cadiz to see if the Commonwealth's Attorney will not agree to let them run without molestation from the grand jury until the end of the year. This is not at all likely, though, and it is pretty certain that the saloons closed will not be re-opened. There is a melancholy feature about this business that the prohibitionists do not consider in their rejoicings. These men are turned out of business at a very inopportune time. Winter is coming on. Most of them are poor men and cannot make arrangements to leave or to go into other business for some time at least. The people have decided that liquor must go, but we feel assured that they have no unkind feelings towards the men whose business has been broken up. Many of these men are good and useful citizens. They own their homes here and their wives and daughters belong to the various churches and have helped to contribute of their means to good and charitable objects. It is to be hoped that no needless excitement will drive them and their families from among us. If they engage in other business let the prohibitionists help to support them with their patronage and show them that they were trying to break down the liquor business and not the liquor men as individuals.

The Three Close States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 6.—The Chronicle claims that Swift, Rep., for governor, has been counted out in the city. The Democrats claim the state for Bartlett by 350 plurality.

The first congressional district is the only one now doubtful. Riggs, Dem., is elected in the Second, the remaining four have been carried by the Republicans. Returns for the legislature are still incomplete, but there is no doubt but it is Democratic by at least six majority on joint ballot. Figures already received indicate 12, but the Republican majority at some points will probably cut these down.

Exchanges to-day from Interior precincts of the state reduce Bartlett's (Dem.) plurality over Swift (Rep.) for governor to 202. The remaining precincts to be heard from in the mountain counties will probably increase these figures for Bartlett, but the final result cannot yet be determined. Republicans assert that Swift was counted out in San Francisco. The Republican state central committee has, by permission, placed seals on packages containing the votes and on vaults in which they have been placed. They have also placed two men to watch the vaults.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The political excitement of yesterday has calmed to-day. The federal jury has adjourned until Monday and no further steps have been taken regarding alleged frauds in this county. The Democratic majority on joint ballot has settled firm as a rock at two. The Republicans' effort seems baffled to dislodge it. They have runners skimming over the state hunting for weak spots in the returns. It is claimed that Cornelius Meagher of Vigo county, elected to the legislature by the Democrats, is a justice of the peace, and he is therefore ineligible. A section of the constitution of Indiana provides that "no person elected to any judicial office shall during the term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office of trust or profit under the state, other than a judicial office." An answer to an inquiry sent to Terre Haute, where Meagher lives, to-day, was "That claim is made by the Republicans but the opinion of a number of lawyers of this city who have been consulted about the matter, is to the contrary." Meagher was elected a justice of the peace last spring, but has never taken the office. Meagher also telegraphs that he has never been qualified as justice. The Republicans have control of the lower house, however, and may resort to any desperate device to save Senator Harrison.

NEW JERSEY.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 6.—The boards of canvassers met in all the counties to-day and canvassed the votes of Tuesday's election. In Essex county no result was arrived at and the board adjourned until to-morrow. A recount will be ordered in the Second district, where Peck (Rep.) was elected over Donny (Dem.) by five majority; also in the Sixth district, where Crane (Dem.) was elected over Ward (Rep.) by twenty-two majority. In the Second district of Passaic it is not yet decided whether the tie between Emley and Carroll will be settled by a recount or a new election. The legislature remains one Democratic majority on joint ballot with out the Emley district.

TUNTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—The Republicans and Democrats both have representatives on guard at each of the disputed assembly districts. Both parties claim the legislature by one majority. A new dispute has arisen in the Second assembly district. In Essex county James Peck (Rep.) was returned as elected by a small majority over John J. Denney (Dem.). Denney will demand a recount on the ground of fraud.

The Universalists.

AKRON, O., Oct. 20.—Five hundred delegates and visitors are now in attendance upon the Universalist general conference. A song the arrivals this morning was Rev. D. H. Eaton who succeeded Rev. Dr. Chapin as pastor of the foremost Universalist church in New York City. The afternoon session was taken up with consideration of the various reports and that of the Board of Trustees. It contained the following statistics: Number of parishes, 900; number of families, 37,307; church membership, 51,714; property, less debt, $7,112,818; current expenses of parishes, $674,590; church edifices, $178,025; payment of debts, $1,510; general purposes, $51,557.

Recipe For Keeping Cider.

After your cider is made, draw it off into a clean barrel, and stop it tight. Then make a small hole, either in the bung or head of the barrel, insert a reed perfectly tight, over which place one end of a rubber tube placing the other end in a pan of water. After fermentation has ceased, stop perfectly tight and your cider will keep a number of years.

Five counties voted on prohibition Tuesday. It carried in Christian, Caldwell, Lyon and Ohio and was defeated in Bourbon. Several precincts voted on the question in Daviess Co., but Philpott was the only one in which it carried.

Peterson's Magazine for November.

is on our table, the very queen of today's books. It has a charming steel-plate, "A Message From the Sea," a mammoth colored fashion-plate, a portrait of Ann S. Stephens, some other illustrations, and several original stories of unusual power. How the publisher can afford to keep improving the magazine, as he does, is a standing wonder. With this number appears the Prospectus for next year. It promises even better things, and "Peterson" always keeps his promises. There will be over 1,200 printed pages, 14 steel-engravings, 12 mammoth colored steel fashion-plates, from 800 to 900 wood-cuts, and six copyright novelets, by Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. John Sherwood, Edgar Fawcett, Frank Lee Bennet, Mrs. M. V. Spencer, and Agnes Bowman—and one hundred smaller original stories, etc. In short, the magazine will continue to be, as heretofore the cheapest and best for ladies. The new design fresh from the Mills. To clubs, it is cheaper still, viz: four copies for six dollars and a half, with an extra copy to the person getting up the club. Of five copies for eight dollars, with both an extra copy and the book of "Deeds," beautifully illustrated, or a large steel-engraving, "Partners' Darling." Every lady should take this magazine. It is really a household necessity. Now is the time to subscribe. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Specimens are sent, gratis, if written for, to get up clubs with.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, sebr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Croup, Croup, Croup, etc. He gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now a standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.
